History of the Wheelock House

The Wheelock House was built in 1773 as the home of Eleazar Wheelock, Dartmouth's founding president. In the 1830s, the College sold the House to the Howe family, and it was moved from its original location—roughly where Reed Hall is today—to its current location on Wheelock Street. It was the home of the Howe family until 1900, when it was gifted to the Town of Hanover to serve as a public library. The Howe Library moved to South Street in the 1970s, and eventually the Wheelock House was repurchased by the College.

In 2006, Andrew Schuman '10 founded The Dartmouth Apologia, an undergraduate journal with a mission to articulate Christian perspectives in the academic community. Gregg Fairbrothers '76, a professor at the Tuck School of Business and the founder of the Dartmouth Entrepreneurial Network, served as the journal's first faculty advisor. In 2010, Andrew and Gregg, alongside other alumni, students, and faculty, founded the Wheelock Society to expand upon Apologia's mission and develop new platforms to foster the integration of faith, reason, and vocation at Dartmouth.

In 2012, Hilary Johnson '15 presented the Wheelock Society with a vision for a Christian living learning community at Dartmouth, and in 2015, the Society purchased the Wheelock House from the College in order to create that Christian living learning community. In 2021, the Wheelock Society broke ground on the renovation of the Wheelock House, opening the Wheelock House living learning community in Fall 2022 and the Wheelock House study center in Fall 2024.

Leadership

Board of Trustees

The Wheelock House is operated by the Wheelock Society, a 501(c)(3) nonprofit organization governed by a board of Dartmouth students, alumni, and faculty. Executive Director Charlie Clark '11 serves as the liaison between the board of trustees and the House's student leadership council and manages the day-to-day operations of the House on the board's behalf. Bios of the current Wheelock Society board members can be found at <https://wheelocksociety.org/Who-We-Are>.

Student Leadership Council

Student leadership is one of the core values of the Wheelock Society. A student leadership council, which includes both residential and non-residential members of the Wheelock House community, is the primary governing body of the student community. The Wheelock House Student Director serves as the head of the leadership council. The other members of the council are appointed by the Student Director in collaboration with the Executive Director. For information about serving on the student leadership council, contact the Student Director.

House Identity: Mission, Vision, and Values

The Wheelock House is an initiative within the Wheelock Society's mission to foster the integration of faith, reason, vocation, and service at Dartmouth. The founders and leaders of the House share a Christian worldview rooted in the Bible and the Nicene Creed. Other core values of the Wheelock Society include intellectual rigor, ecumenism, and entrepreneurship. All of these values shape the character of the Wheelock House.

However, while the Wheelock House is shaped by Christian commitments, you do not have to be a Christian—much less any particular kind of Christian—to belong to the community. Everyone is welcome—all are invited—to study and fellowship at the Wheelock House, either in the residential living learning community or in the study center.

As the Wheelock Society, our vision for the Wheelock House is that it would be a resource for the whole Dartmouth community, especially for those who are interested in learning what it means to live well, to explore the Christian vision of the good life.

Residential members of the living learning community make a special commitment to pursue its core values, which were defined by the founding cohort of residents. These core values are:

- Courageous Exploration
- Authentic Friendship
- Radical Hospitality
- Generous Availability
- Joyful Rest

Leasing, Security Deposits, and Rent

Leasing

The Wheelock Society is the landlord for the Wheelock House. The Executive Director serves as the landlord's agent. Leases are for the full year, September to August. Subtenants are subject to the same terms and conditions as leaseholders, and subleases are subject to the landlord's approval. While the landlord will assist in connecting leaseholders with prospective subtenants, the final responsibility for finding subtenants lies with the leaseholder. In the event that you do not find subtenants for your apartment during an off term, you will still be liable for the full amount of the rent.

Security Deposits

Security deposits are held for the full year, and are returned to the leaseholders only at the expiration of the lease. The security deposit may be used by the landlord to cover damages to the apartment, excessive cleaning, disposal of abandoned personal property, or unpaid rent—regardless of who was in residence at the time, whether the leaseholder or a subtenant. The landlord is not a party to and does not enter into any agreements or understandings between leaseholders and subtenants regarding the security deposit or responsibility for damages, and no agreement or understanding between leaseholders and subtenants may impair the landlord's right to use the security deposit as specified in the lease agreement.

Rent

Rent must be paid on time and by a single check or transfer per apartment. There is a late fee written into the lease. There is a five-day grace period, but avoid using it: pay on or before the 1st. The first time the rent is late (over 5 days), you will be charged $100. The second time (and all subsequent times), you will be charged 5%.

Move-in / Move-out

Move-in Instructions

- Each term, email the Executive Director with your move-in date.
- At the beginning of the lease, security deposit and first month's rent must be paid in order to receive your keys.
- Before you move in, submit the serial number of your Dartmouth ID. Once entered into our system, you can swipe it to open the outside doors. See this Google form for further instructions and to submit your code. You only need to do this once.
- Review the rules on "Storage" below.

Move-out Instructions

- Each term, email the Executive Director with your move-out date.
- You must vacate your apartment by the end date of your lease or sublease, unless you have a written exception from the landlord. The only circumstance in which an exception is likely to be granted is when you will be living in the House during the term immediately following the expiration of your lease. Otherwise, you should make alternative arrangements for interim housing and storage of your belongings. Vacancies during interims allow for cleaning and maintenance and a smooth move-in process for incoming residents.
- When you vacate your apartment: REMOVE ALL PERSONAL PROPERTY from the apartment, including the fridge, cabinets, and closets. Do not leave anything behind without the express consent of the incoming tenants and written permission from the landlord. Any violation may be grounds for withholding the security deposit.
- When you vacate your apartment (or leave for an interim), TAKE OUT ALL TRASH. Any violation may be grounds for withholding the security deposit.
- When you vacate your apartment, leave all keys on the kitchen table and lock the apartment door behind you.
- When you vacate your apartment (or leave for an interim), set the heat to 60°F (during cool months) or the air conditioning to 78°F (during warm months).
- When you vacate your apartment (or leave for an interim), notify the property manager of any known maintenance issues.
- Review the rules on "Storage" below.

Common Issues and Miscellaneous Rules

Air Conditioning Units

The Wheelock House apartments are equipped with mini-split heating/cooling units. Never attempt to run either heat or cool while any windows are open. The unit will not function properly and could be damaged. (You're welcome to open your windows; just set the units to Off first.) While each apartment contains multiple interior units with individual controls and thermostats, they are all connected to the same exterior unit. Thus, they must all be set to either heat (sun icon) or cool (snowflake icon) in order to function. You cannot heat one room while cooling another room. You can change between these settings by pressing "mode" on your remote. Please set your units to reasonable temperatures (64–68°F in cold months, 74–78° in warm months) to save energy. Do not attempt to run on cool when the outside weather is below 65°F, as this will put the unit into freeze protection, requiring it to be reset before it will operate again.

Exterior Displays

The Wheelock House is a historic building, recognized by the College and the Town of Hanover. Consequently, we cannot allow any displays (e.g., flags) in the windows or on the exterior of the building. In general, please be mindful of the appearance of the House to passersby.

Furniture

All apartments should have: 3 beds, 3 desks, 3 desk chairs, 3 side tables with drawers, 3 dresser equivalents (either an upright dresser or a pair of under-bed drawer units), a kitchen table, 4 kitchen chairs, a couch, an armchair, and a coffee table. Apartment 203 also has wardrobes. In the past, some apartments have decided they only wanted 2 desks or 3 kitchen chairs, etc. As you move in, if you're missing anything, let me know, and I will get it out of storage for you. All the beds are capable of being bunked. The necessary hardware is also in storage.

Guests

No one, other than signed tenants and subtenants, is allowed to stay overnight in the apartment, for any length of time, except with the written permission of the landlord.

Induction Stoves

The Wheelock House apartments are equipped with induction stoves, which heat faster than conventional electric stoves and are safer than gas stoves, but only work with magnetic cookware. If you have non-magnetic cookware, you can purchase an induction plate online for $15-25 that allows you to use any cookware on an induction stove.

Laundry

There are two washers and two dryers in the laundry room, located on the basement floor. Please treat the common space with respect and keep it clean.

Please ensure that you retrieve your laundry when it is finished, and do not occupy a washer/drier longer than needed. We aim to respect people's belongings as much as possible by letting the owners move them, but if clothes are left long enough, they might be moved so someone else can use the facilities.

Please only use liquid laundry detergent in the machine if inserting in the agitator (the post in the middle of the washer). Powder detergent tends to clump and get stuck in the agitator.

Please discard your lint in the trashcan in the laundry room. Do not let it accumulate; it is a fire hazard.

Law Enforcement

The Wheelock House is off-campus. Consequently, responses to noise complaints and any other intervention or investigation will come from the Hanover Police, not Safety and Security.

Lost Keys

There will be a $25 replacement fee for a lost apartment key, mailbox key, or electronic keycard (if issued).

Mail

Each apartment has a mailbox, and each resident has a key to their apartment's mailbox. Letter mail and some smaller packages will be delivered to your apartment's mailbox, but large packages are placed in front of the mailboxes. Be sure to retrieve your packages in a timely manner to prevent potential theft and clutter in the mailing area.

Maintenance Requests

Residents are responsible for the ordinary cleaning and maintenance of their apartment. This includes keeping the apartment in a generally sanitary condition and replacing consumables like light bulbs. This also includes regularly cleaning the air filters on your air conditioning units. The landlord is responsible for major repairs. Maintenance requests should be submitted to the property manager. (See Contact Info on cover.)

Parking

There is no resident parking at the Wheelock House. The parking lot on the west side of the House belongs to the Town of Hanover. The driveway on the east side of the House may be used for active loading and unloading only. Vehicles parked in the driveway may be towed at the owner's expense and without warning.

Participation Requirement

As a Wheelock House resident, you are subject to a participation requirement, which is set forth in your lease. The purpose of this requirement is to ensure that everyone who chooses to live in the House will be a contributing member of the living learning community. Your participation is tracked in terms of hours, which can be earned through helping with and attending House Dinners and other programs and events, service opportunities, etc. While the requirement is not intended to be onerous, it is taken seriously, and a failure to meet your obligation is a breach of your lease agreement and could result in the termination of your housing.

Quiet Hours

Quiet hours of the Wheelock House are Sunday–Thursday, 10pm–8am, and Friday–Saturday, 11pm–9am. During these hours, no activities should be audible outside your apartment.

Smoking (including Vaping), Candles, and Open Flames

None. Ever. Of any kind. No exceptions.

Storage

The only area where residents' belongings may be stored is inside the basement storage room with the double doors. No residents' belongings may be stored anywhere else, including in the other storage rooms in the basement or in the main area of the basement. (Exception: Bikes may be stored in the main area of the basement.)

Storage is only available for current residents and future residents with a signed lease or sublease. All items must be labeled with the owner's name, apartment, the date the item was placed in storage, and the date the owner's lease or sublease expires. Anything not labeled with the name of a current resident or future resident with a signed lease or sublease will be thrown out between terms.

Wall Decor

Use push pins, rather than Command strips, to hang decorations.
